Le Clos Rosé

FRANCE

2025

The 2025 vintage in Languedoc begins under favorable conditions: minimal spring frost and cool temperatures in March delay bud break and protect the vines. Regular rainfall replenishes water reserves and promotes vegetative growth, despite strong disease pressure. From May, warmth and humidity stimulate flowering. The summer is marked by a heatwave at the end of June, storms in July, and an early harvest. In August, severe wildfires devastate 17,000 hectares in the Aude, and a new heatwave accelerates grape ripening. Volumes are reduced, but quality is excellent: the whites retain freshness and typicity, while the reds are concentrated, fleshy, and promising. A demanding but high-quality vintage.

WINEMAKING

The grapes are harvested without added SO₂ and brought directly to the press. Pressed fractions are selected according to quality and kept separate. The musts are then kept cold on their gross lees to extract aromas and add volume on the palate. Vinification is carried out separately for different parcels and grape varieties.

AGEING

Aging in stainless steel on fine lees to enhance mouthfeel, and in amphorae to preserve minerality, until blending and bottling.

Salmon color with blue highlights.

Intense, between small red fruits (redcurrant) and citrus (orange zest, sweet mandarin, grapefruit).

Lively and soft attack, fresh and mineral finish with pleasant refreshing bitterness.

Ideal with summer salads, tapenade and sun-ripened vegetables, summer grills, aged goat cheese, roasted turbot, monkfish in saffron sauce, seafood, fried calamari with aioli, sea urchins.
